

Lent is approaching and we know things will be a bit different. With time, we'll see you again in your parish, but for now, all of us at SCIAF send love and well-wishes for a brighter future. Thank you for your continued support - our work is possible because of the generosity of parishes throughout Scotland.

This Lent, our WEE BOX appeal looks at the ongoing crisis in South Sudan where a generation of children with disabilities are locked out of an education and trapped in a cycle of poverty. Together, we're helping children with disabilities in South Sudan to access the education and support they need to build a bright future.

We have lots to share with you about the appeal, so read on for everything you need to know.

Your WEE BOX materials

Your WEE BOX materials should have arrived with you. Do get in touch and let us know if you are still waiting on yours - drop us an email at getinvolved@sciaf.org.uk.

Many parishioners are coming up with creative ways of distributing our WEE BOX packs. Some are handing them out while out on a dog walk; others are leaving them outside their home for friends to pick up; a few parishes in St Andrews & Edinburgh will be giving out WEE BOX packs with their ashes!

If you've found an interesting way of distributing your WEE BOXES, we'd love to hear about it. Why not send us a photo or upload one on social media? Remember to tag @SCIAF (on Facebook and Twitter; @SCIAF_insta on Instagram).

More ways to fill your WEE BOX

For parishioners who'd normally pick their WEE BOX up at Mass or school, there are still lots of ways that they can take part this year. They can order a WEE BOX and we'll post it to them. Alternatively, if parishioners aren't using cash, they can check out our Online WEE BOX.

Making WEE BOX donations

As things are a bit different this year we've made a handy WEE BOX guide for 2021. You'll find lots of information for both parishes and parishioners who are taking part in the WEE BOX and want to know how to give or return donations to SCIAF.
